Tucker Ellis LLP

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

OVERVIEW

Tucker Ellis views intellectual property in terms of the value and competitive advantage it brings to our clients. At Tucker Ellis, our clients find everything they need: a full-service national IP practice with attorneys experienced and acclaimed in handling trials and litigation; IP strategy to maximize value; patent procurement; technology transfer; analysis; and branding. Our ability to integrate these resources allows us to provide a comprehensive solution to any IP problem.

We take a different and better approach to creating, managing, and enforcing IP. By taking the time to look at each client individually, regardless of the size of the matter, we provide personalized service and develop programs to suit different and diverse needs. We take an innovative and fresh approach to each matter to benefit our clients in terms of both quality and value.
