Dana Rogers manages financing transactions for clients in a variety of industries.

Dana's experience includes a wide range of secured financing transactions. She has represented lenders and agents in bilateral and syndicated credit facilities and in both senior and subordinate loan positions across a range of industries.

Dana is adept at drafting and negotiating complex loan documents related to multimillion-dollar transactions and reviewing and evaluating title, survey, and zoning matters related to underlying real estate collateral. A strategic thinker, she clearly articulates complex legal ideas and recommends strategies in loan negotiations, empowering clients to better understand and mitigate unreasonable risk and make more informed decisions.

Outside of the office, Dana enjoys cycling, stand-up paddle boarding with her dog Lucy, skiing, and scuba diving. She loves to travel, but when she's home in Lakewood, she spends most of her time spoiling her rescue dog and cat.
