

Dalila Omerovic

Associate

100 South Fourth Street,
Suite 600
St. Louis, MO 63102-1822

D 314.256.2534

F 314.256.2549

dalila.omerovic@tuckerellis.com

Dalila Omerovic focuses her practice on mass tort and consumer product liability matters with an emphasis on the health and life sciences industry, defending leading product manufacturers in high-stakes litigation nationwide.

Dalila defends pharmaceutical and personal care product manufacturers in state and federal courts across the country, navigating complex legal and scientific issues to develop strategic, client-focused solutions.

Dalila has broad litigation experience, including serving as second-chair trial counsel, and brings a thoughtful, pragmatic approach to every stage of a case. Committed to positioning clients for long-term success, her advocacy has helped them achieve dismissals, defense verdicts, and favorable settlements.

Education

- Saint Louis University School of Law (J.D., 2024); University College Cork Study Abroad Program in Ireland; Law School Dean's Scholar
- University of Missouri-St. Louis (B.A. in Political Science and International Relations, 2020); Section Editor and Staff Writer for The Current

State Admissions

- Missouri, 2024
- Illinois, 2025

Federal Admissions

- United States District Court, Eastern District of Missouri
- United States District Court, Western District of Missouri

Certifications

- Advanced Legal Research, Litigation Research, Transactional Law, and Prepare to Practice Certificates, Thomson Reuters
- Legal Technology Certificate, National Society for Legal Technology

Languages

- Bosnian

Service Areas

- Health & Life Sciences
- Life Sciences Litigation
- Mass Tort & Product Liability

In the Community

- The Missouri Bar
- The St. Louis County Bar Association