Edward Racek has more than 19 years of experience representing and counseling clients in litigation relating to core areas of business operations, including real property, employment, contracts, data privacy, and fiduciary and regulatory compliance.

Edward represents clients in a diverse range of industries, including real estate, ESOPs, cosmetics and dietary supplements, insurance, healthcare, cannabis and CBD.

Edward brings a creative problem-solving approach with a focus on helping clients achieve their business and litigation goals through strategic planning, clear communication, and dignified yet aggressive pursuit of their interests. He oversees the day-to-day management of high-exposure cases through trial and appeals, and he regularly counsels clients on legal and regulatory matters to help them avoid litigation. His experience representing both plaintiffs and defendants is invaluable to developing winning strategies for clients.

In law school, Edward externed for the Honorable Phyllis J. Hamilton of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, where he honed his legal writing skills and gained valuable insight into how the courts make decisions that affect our society and lives. While earning his Master's degree in healthcare law, Edward represented mental health patients in statutorily mandated hearings.
