For more than 40 years, Rita Maimbourg has focused her practice on medical-related litigation, defending hospital systems, physicians, and manufacturers of medical devices and pharmaceuticals.

Based on her significant courtroom experience, Rita was inducted in 2012 as a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, recognized as the preeminent organization of trial lawyers in North America. Over the course of her career, she has received accolades and awards from many organizations, including Chambers USA, ALM, Benchmark Litigation, LMG Life Sciences, Lawdragon 500, Who's Who Legal, Ohio Super Lawyers, and The Best Lawyers in America® – and Crain's Cleveland Business has named Rita among both its Women of Note and Notable Women in Law.

Rita is passionate about mentoring and training junior lawyers. She created the “learn by doing” format of the Tucker Ellis Litigation Institute, which teaches pretrial and trial skills to the firm's associates, and, in 2023, she will lead the Tucker Ellis Trial Academy, a more intense program focusing on courtroom skills. She has also served as an adjunct professor of Trial Tactics at her alma mater, Case Western Reserve University School of Law, and presents to physician groups on various medical-legal topics.

A transplant to Cleveland in 1978, Rita grew up in Erie, Pennsylvania. She and her husband enjoy live theatre, golf, and spending time in Niagara-on-the-Lake in Ontario, Canada, where they are frequent visitors. Rita is known to all as an avid dog lover and she tries hard to be a sports fan.
