Tucker Ellis LLP

Long Term Care

Overview

Long term care facilities and home healthcare businesses continue to increase as our population ages and more and more seniors are in need of these services. Tucker Ellis is unique in that it offers both trial and corporate experience and has considerable depth in terms of long term care and provider defense. Our team has significant experience managing litigation statewide and enforcing arbitration agreements. In addition, we offer non-litigation counsel regarding best business practices and risk management. Our strong advocacy practice at the local, state, and federal levels is an added benefit to our long term care clients.

Providers of long term care need to have claims promptly evaluated so that significant claims can be directly and aggressively addressed without wasting resources on meritless claims or minor issues. Using the medical, pharmaceutical and nursing experience of our attorneys and the expert witnesses developed in our Medical Pharmaceutical practice, Tucker Ellis client resources are effectively directed through early case evaluation.

Tucker Ellis attorneys bring unparalleled commitment and depth of experience to our representation of long term care providers. Our attorneys regularly counsel and represent the following types of organizations:

- Assisted living facilities
- Acute care facilities
- Developmental disabilities facilities
- Hospitals and health systems
- Insurers and managed care organizations

AREAS OF EMPHASIS

- Exclusive Ohio counsel for one of the largest long term care providers in the state
- Statewide litigation counsel for national assisted living company
- Successful jury trials in cases involving skin ulcers, wrongful death, infection control, and allegations of general neglect
- Pre-suit investigation and counseling
- Risk management and training for nurses and administrators
- Providing non-litigation related legal services concerning medical privacy issues, employment matters, employee benefits, and general business support